Sponsorship Proposal

“This boy will outlive the entire family.”
— The Tzadik of Tyczyn, 1929

Leon Schagrin was only a baby when the Tzadik Rebbe in the small Galician town of Tyczyn told his worried parents that their fragile child was destined to outlive them all.

Decades later, that prophecy would carry a weight no one could have imagined.

Leon survived the Holocaust and the destruction of the Jewish communities of Galicia.

But survival was only the beginning. He chose to spend his life telling the world what happened—so that the families, neighbors, and vibrant Jewish towns that once filled Galicia would never disappear from memory.

For decades, Leon has spoken to students, communities, and leaders, carrying the voices of those who could not.

As Leon approaches his 100th birthday, The Art of Humanity is honored to announce the Leon Schagrin Scholarship for Holocaust Teacher Training—ensuring that educators across the United States can continue sharing the history of Leon, the Schagrin family, and the Jews of Galicia with future generations.

Because memory is the greatest act of survival. And education ensures Never Again starts with Me!

About The Leon Schagrin Legacy Scholarship for Holocaust Teacher Training

The Leon Schagrin Legacy Scholarship for Holocaust Teacher Training honors the life and witness of Holocaust survivor Leon Schagrin as he approaches his 100th birthday. Dedicated to preserving the memory of the Jews of Galicia, the scholarship supports educators from across the United States in receiving specialized training in Holocaust history and testimony. Through these teachers, Leon's story—and the story of the communities that were destroyed—will continue to educate and inspire future generations.
